History of The Out-of-Door Academy

Our school has a rich and unique history. Founded in 1924 on Siesta Key as the Out-of-Door School, it opened with ten students and five teachers. Classes "for healthy minds, bodies, and spirits" included academics, music and art, as well as horseback riding, swimming, dancing and carpentry. The school founders, Fanneal Harrison and Catherine Gavin, envisioned and created a school that would allow young people to traverse the world around them in an experiential manner. Over the past ten years, The Out-of-Door Academy has become a vibrant two-campus college-preparatory school with a well-balanced curriculum focused on strong academics, the arts and athletics. In 1997, The Out-of-Door Academy opened a second campus in Lakewood Ranch expanding its educational offerings for grades 7 through 12.

Mission of The Banyan Ball / Extravaganza

Since 1979, one of Out-of-Door's major fundraisers is the annual Auction. It is the second largest fundraiser in Sarasota and is attended by people throughout the community. Proceeds from this event enrich existing programs such as faculty development, technology, athletics, the arts and facility enhancements. In addition, money raised from the Banyan Ball also helps support the tuition assistance program and contributes toward our endowment. Each year, approximately 20-25 percent of the student body receives some amount of need-based tuition assistance. This program allows academically qualified students to attend The Out-of-Door Academy regardless of their families' financial status and helps maintain socio-economic diversity, a key aspect of the school’s mission. We believe that celebrating each student's unique differences enables the school to enrich the academic experiences of the entire student body.

Why Your Support Makes A Difference

Public and private education in the community have always shared a great relationship and provided wonderful options for all families by offering a range of choices to meet the individual needs of all children.

The Out-of-Door Academy, in its mission to provide an outstanding college-prep course of study, recognizes the need to have a strong tuition assistance program to make this option available for children and families who could benefit most from the experience.

Your investment in these students today will truly be reflected in the outstanding leaders that they will become in future years.
